

Tom Meyer's memories - Plebe Year and beyond

Don't have any funny stories that are socially acceptable. House gave us sex education about eating a woman that made Shelly want to barf. Youngster year House sent some plebes around to piss in Shelly's sink and he got class A'd for that. Sort of funny but not kind of story that you can easily tell. I do remember then being awakened early every morning by two horribly loud alarm clocks for Houses extra duty for that act and Sonny Langley was under class A for having sent a bag of shit around to a first classman who come into our room and took everything out of Sonny's locker and threw it on the floor because Sonny had abducted his girl friend!
